

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

WARD WRESTLES.

The Result of Last Night's Democratic Primaries.

Claims of the Candidates.

The following delegates were elected at the democratic ward caucuses last evening:

First—James Wickham, Robert Rain, John Linder, G. A. Holmes, Patrick Lacey, Cessy Walters, H. Schoemaker, Second—W. L. Patten, John Mikessill, W. S. Pettibone, S. Koller, E. R. Bates, Peter Bechtele, Joseph Mithor, J. J. White.

Third—Oliver B. Lower, L. Furmerlin, M. Keating, A. C. Graham, F. Spelman, P. L. Auwerda.

Fourth—C. R. Mitchell, C. Wesley, James Madden, J. J. Fraunie, J. A. Churchill, William Galvin, Isaac Troop, W. H. Ware, J. I. Lutz.

In the first ward Conrad Geiser was nominated for alderman, receiving 101 votes, J. M. Palmer 54. In the second ward W. A. Munster was nominated for alderman, receiving 42 votes, Pettibone receiving 37.

An estimate of the preferences of the delegates gives Bowman, First ward 5, Second 5, Third 6, Fourth 1, total 17. Vaughan, First ward 2, Second 3, Fourth 8, total 13.

Vaughan claims 21 out of the 30 delegates, divided as follows: First ward 4, Second 4, Third 4, Fourth 3. He also claims that there are one or two that are not known to be pledged.

There was a lively time in the Fourth ward over charges preferred by Robert Percival against John Jay Frayne, for misappropriation of campaign funds last fall. Frayne demanded a committee to investigate. Percival moved the appointment of a committee, and that O. D. Walters be one. The motion was voted down, and Frayne was chosen ward committeeman.

Reaching for Reform.

As the time draws near for the city election there is manifest always a desire for reform, the voters always looking up on this time as the opportunity for correcting real or fancied abuses and evils in the city government, but this year there seems to be an unusual pressure in that respect, and unusual good ground for such a pressure. The cry for reform ought to have been started way back in the past, instead of now, and kept up until the evils are corrected, instead of being a mere spurt or spasm.

Young Men

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will find relief in the use of this, the greatest benevolent ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. Wagner will guarantee to furnish $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind and character which he under takes to cure.

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight stinging or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a copious sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a milky hue, again changing to a dark and loamy appearance. There are many, many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. W. will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs.

A FRIEND TO ALL.

One Who is Needed and Nobly Fills his Place.

Denver is more fortunate than she knows in the possession of the talents and energies of a man who has given his time and strength to the perfection of his skill as a practitioner of the profession of medicine, but to the study of those profound things of science and nature which tend to a more complete understanding of the problem of life and the laws of nature and the means of gaining the greatest practical good to mankind from the information thus acquired in the abstract. Such a man is Dr. H. Wagner, who is located at 348 Larimer street.

ARE YOU GOING TO EUROPE?

In another column will be found the announcement of Messrs. THOS. COOK & SON, tourist agents, 261 Broadway, New York, relative to the very complete arrangements they have made for tours in Europe during the coming Spring and Summer.

Why Not Settle It?

The street filling committee and still the doubt exists as to who is to foot the bills. It seems that this doubt ought to have been settled by a decision of the courts before so much was done. Arrangements were made long ago for an agreed case covering the points in controversy to be taken up to the supreme court without delay, but like the agreed case concerning the filling of the street car tracks the matter was allowed to rest and the work went on. The BEE has already shown by official letters received from other cities that this is the only one in the state where the filling is charged up to abutting property, and as there is claimed to be clear law against such a procedure, the necessity for a supreme court decision is the more needed.

DR. H. WAGNER & CO.

338 Larimer St., Address Box 2389, DENVER, COL.

feels every financial feature of the improvements being made.

In the first place, as shown by the BEE some time ago, the contractor who bid for contracts feel an uncertainty as to when and how they are to get their pay, and in bidding they cover this uncertainty by a margin of from forty to sixty per cent. This additional per cent. is to be paid sooner or later by somebody, and whoever that somebody is will have to pay this extra amount above what the work could have been done for if these uncertainties had been removed.

Some of the property owners are protecting themselves by buying up the certificates at a discount. If, for instance, a contractor is given the work of filling up a certain street at 32 cents a yard, Mr. A. will make an arrangement with him for taking his certificate of assessment of his hands, paying him, say twenty cents a yard cash. Mr. A. holds the certificate which bears interest. If the court shall decide that the filling must be paid for by abutting property, Mr. A. has already paid for his at twenty cents, but if it should be decided that the city must pay for it out of the general fund, he will present his certificate and get a profit of sixty per cent besides the interest. As many think that the city as a whole will eventually have to pay for this filling there are many such certificates thus shamed, and in case it should be so decided, the city will have a big burden and will be called on to pay dearly for its loose way of proceeding in these matters. The council is to be re-nationally censured for not getting a decision one way or another in this matter before proceeding so far. The question cannot be dodged, and its procrastination is costing this city, either collectively or individually a great and needless amount.

North Pole Expeditions.

Pizza fights, lotteries, walking matches, and halloo acrobatics are usually huzzags of the worst sort. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is not a huzzag. It is a quinine, a salicylic acid, and is just as good for a lameness.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed for record in the recorder's office, February 20, reported for the BEE by P. J. Mahon, real estate agent:

Henry W. Luker to Herman Knief, $4,300, 33, 74, 42, $2,300.

Reuben B. Johnson to Fanny M. Manke-son, $1,300, 30, 70, 43, $3,250.

Henry Rabhek to Hogan Ouren, $1,500, pt. $1,500, 9, 74, 41, $2,000.

Joseph Boiler to Mary Allen, lot 3, bl 2, Boiler's addition to Walnut, $75.

Total sales, $7,025.

IOWA NEWS.

The big elevator at Burlington is ready for business.

Des Moines Episcopalians will build a church to cost $25,000.

Burlington is agitating the question of establishing a superior court.

The Irish-American club at Dubuque has a library of about 400 volumes.

Money is being subscribed in Ida Grove for the purpose of sinking a coal-prospecting hole.

An appropriation of $75,000 has been made by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy for the purpose of erecting machine shops at Creston during the coming year.

John Mullett, a young man about 25 years of age, was killed near Solon, in Johnson county, on the 14th, by the upsetting of his wagon, which was loaded with heavy timbers.

It is predicted that the attendance at the fireman's tournament in Des Moines next June will be as large as at the state fair. It will begin on the second Wednesday in June and last until Saturday.

About three weeks ago a son of Jerry Maloney, of Lyons, wandered away and has not since been discovered. On account of injuries he received several years ago the boy's brain is slightly affected at times.

Parties have made a proposition to establish a normal school in Corning and invest $15,000 in the enterprise, provided the citizens will erect a college building at a cost of $25,000. An effort is being made to raise the sum in shares of $10 each.

It is now spoken of as a certainty that the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railway will announce building the Sarr Lake & Western branch road from Lake Park early in the spring, and will have it completed to Sioux Falls, Dakota, by October 1, 1884.

Gustavus Anderson, aged 25, living nine miles from Peterson, Clay county, suicided a few mornings ago by cutting his throat with a dull pocket-knife. It is supposed that he was suffering with temporary insanity, brought on by religious excitement.

Twenty of the young men of Cedar Rapids have formed an anti-starvation club. The club has rented a house and contracted for a housekeeper. The object of the association is to furnish its members with the best boarding accommodations at the lowest possible rates.

J. W. Reed, of the Farragut News, was on Thursday arrested for perjury, in that he falsified his subscription books, largely increasing the circulation of his paper, and made affidavit of the correctness of his lists before the board of supervisors, in order to wrongly influence the distribution of the county printing.

A boy at the Fairfield school in Centerville one day recently concluded he would not submit to punishment by the teacher and accordingly presented a revolver and ordered her to stand a little back. The teacher—a lady teacher at that—very deliberately took the revolver away from him and gave him a good whipping. The revolver was loaded in all its chambers. Subsequently the authorities caused the arrest of the boy for carrying concealed weapons, and he was fined $5 and costs.

A company has been formed in Davenport for the purpose, as the articles of incorporation state, "of erecting, owning, controlling and operating a bridge across the Mississippi at or near Davenport, in Scott county, Iowa, to form, when completed, a link in a continuous line of railway from the state of Illinois to the state of Iowa." The bridge, the articles state, "shall be a railway bridge for the passage of railway trains, and shall be opened to all railroads running to Davenport."

They have been taking a census of the Presbyterians in Iowa, and find that in May, 1883, there were 306 adherents of the faith in Davenport, 540 in Dubuque, 497 in Des Moines, 311 in Burlington, 313 in Council Bluffs, 883 in Keokuk, 702 in Cedar Rapids, 206 in Clinton, 193 in Ottumwa, 209 in Muscatine, 155 in Sioux City, 209 in Iowa City, 166 in Marshalltown, 130 in Waterloo, 73 in Creston, 130 in Fort Madison, 110 in Okaloosa, 235 in Mt. Pleasant, and 70 in Lyons.

Banking Out West.

A Baltimore man who started a bank at Ouster City a year or so ago failed within a week simply because he didn't know western human nature. His place had not been open a hour when a man in buckskin slouched in and presented a note of $100 running for 60 days and asked to have it discounted.

"I don't know you," replied the banker, who was his own cashier.

"Stranger, that's my name that's at the bottom—Bill Riggs."

"I see."

"And that note is backed by Jim Madden."

"I see, but I don't care to discount it."

The man picked up the paper and walked out, and in the course of 10 minutes a chap with a pistol in either hand danced into the bank and cheerily called out:

"Here's Jim Madden, and he wants to set eyes on the galoot who wont discount a note when he backs it!"

He popped the banker in the shoulder, a clerk through the hip, and then fired away at the fixtures until some one called him out to drink. The next morning the banker was missing, and when he afterwards turned up in Denver, he acknowledged that the banking business had some painful features that no one but a cowboy was able to wrestle with.

Horror of Mineral Poisoning.

I was suffering with Blood Poison, and treated several months with Mercury and Potash, only to make me worse. The Potash took away my appetite and gave me dyspepsia, and both gave me rheumatism. I then took Sarsaparilla, etc. All these Sarsaparilla mixtures have Potash in them. This made me still worse, as it drove the poison further into my system. A friend insisted I should take Swift's Specific, and it cured me sound and well of the Blood Poison, drove the Mercury and Potash out of my system, and to-day I am as well as I ever was.

GEO. O. WELLSMAN, JR., Salem, Mass.

A Fatal Fall in the Indictment.

A highly respectable citizen was arraigned before court for shooting and killing a friend. The evidence was direct, and after exhaustive arguments had been made the judge said:

"It is clearly proven that you are guilty, as charged by the indictment."

"But I protest my innocence," replied the prisoner. "The indictment reads that I did shoot and kill the gentleman with powder and a leaden bullet. This is a mistake. I had no bullets at the time, so I loaded my gun with powder and a horseshoe nail."

"That indeed alters the case," said the judge. "The indictment said bullet, when I should have said nail. You are discharged, sir."

Dr. Rogee's Vegetable Worm Syrup

It is one of the most pleasant or palatable preparations for worms we have ever known. It is thoroughly efficacious, and never requires any other medicine to carry it off after using it. Children like it, as though it were honey!

Townsend's Toothache Anodyne cures instantly.

Rice.

There is a by no means inconsiderable number of persons who find potatoes as an article of food distasteful or even obnoxious to digestion—some are unable to eat them, and in the state in which they are often eaten, sicken rather than boiled, they form a grave charge for any digestion not of the strongest. They are not only unwholesome when raw, but the use of rice in the place of the potato has various considerations to recommend it, chief of which is its far greater digestibility, but if the preparation of it is that generally given by our cooks, it will certainly never displace the potato. It is, in fact, never, in this country, treated with the least regard for its sterling qualities—if not boiled into insipid and sent on the tables as tasteless mass, half granule and half paste, it is boiled indifferently, and is then into the water being drained off, it is made into rolls and fried as rissole, or treated as the basis of a pudding, (or excellent use for it) used to thicken the soup.

Rice forms the chief article of the diet of more millions probably than do wheat and potatoes together, and of people who, whatever may be their standing in the scale of civilization, by which we measure ourselves and find our number on it "A 1," are in many respects our superiors. The mild Hindoo, the patriarchs of all existing civilization, the Chinese, the Anamite, the Fellahe, and the only representatives of the might of King Rice, but the Turkish Empire probably eats rice twice a day on an average, and has for centuries done so, going out to conquer of the stamina of it with as good fanatic patriotism as if it had fed on frogs or roast beef, or even on hog and hominy. The porters of Constantinople, who are as a class unrivaled for physical strength, scarcely eat anything but rice, except at the great feasts of the two Baimras, when, if ever, a Mussulman feasts on all that is not forbidden. The pilaff is an indispensable dish at every Turkish dinner, and until a man has eaten one, properly made, he does not know how delicious rice can be. There are various forms of pilaff, all somewhat resembling the Italian risotto, which is in fact as much like pilaff as a boiled potato is to a baked one. The best variety of it is made as follows: Of good rice (South Carolina is best) take, for one measure, four of a good chicken broth, wash the rice in cold water, drain and put into the hot broth, and let it boil 15 minutes, or, if the rice is very hard and rather old, 20 minutes; then let it stand near the fire where it can neither boil nor burn, undisturbed, but just below the boiling point, until the broth is all absorbed and the grains of rice will fall from the spoon, distinct, and without any tendency to adhere together, so that the ghou-vi-fo in the Arabian Nights story should have no difficulty in eating it, if only, great care be taken, time it should be at the fire unstirred by ebullition or spoon will vary somewhat, but ought not to be more than from fifteen to twenty minutes longer. The seasoning may be according to taste, and a spoonful of tomato sauce (concentrated and highly salted tomato, much used in the East is often added, but this is not needed. This pilaff is sometimes served with small birds boiled with it, and a variety may be made with mutton broth and collops of mutton mixed through the rice. The poorer classes make it generally in the same manner, but with water instead of the broth; and another manner still is to fry the rice dry in butter, until it is of a pale brown when it is boiled as before, but not so long, as cooking the butter facilitates the operation. In every case the ebullition period is not continued beyond the point at which the rice moves freely with the fluid as it boils, as it should not be broken in the grain. To this butter pilaff the tomato sauce is generally added.

The Italian risotto is classically made pilaff, boiled much longer and in a larger quantity of water, and with cheese grated over it when dished. It is, unlike pilaff, pasty, and has absorbed all the water it will hold. It is never so delicate as the pilaff in any form.

The use of rice in sweet dishes in the east is generally in the form of risogala, rice-milk which is made by boiling the rice in milk, sweetened and slightly thickened with rice flour, so that when cold (and it is always eaten cold) it will be stiffish; and when sufficiently cooked it is served out into saucers, and cinnamon powder being dusted over it, it is put away in the cupboard until wanted. One cup of rice to six of milk, with a large spoonful of rice flour, ought to be a good proportion; but this will vary somewhat with the rice, and with the milk as well.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to take a violent cold and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, asked a lady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you do if the plague were to sweep over you?" The worst cases can, however, be cured by DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM for the LUNGS. In Whooping Cough and Croup it is almost always efficacious, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

THE CHEAPEST PLACE IN OMAHA TO BUY

FURNITURE

IS AT DEWEY & STONE'S.

One of the Best and largest Stocks in the United States to select from.

NO STAIRS TO CLIMB. ELEGANT PASSENGER ELEVATOR.

RICHARDS & CLARKE, Proprietors. W. A. CLARKE, Superintending

Omaha Iron Works

O. P. RAILWAY 17TH & 18TH STREETS

Horror of Mineral Poisoning.

I was suffering with Blood Poison, and treated several months with Mercury and Potash, only to make me worse. The Potash took away my appetite and gave me dyspepsia, and both gave me rheumatism. I then took Sarsaparilla, etc. All these Sarsaparilla mixtures have Potash in them. This made me still worse, as it drove the poison further into my system. A friend insisted I should take Swift's Specific, and it cured me sound and well of the Blood Poison, drove the Mercury and Potash out of my system, and to-day I am as well as I ever was.

A Fatal Fall in the Indictment.

A highly respectable citizen was arraigned before court for shooting and killing a friend. The evidence was direct, and after exhaustive arguments had been made the judge said:

"It is clearly proven that you are guilty, as charged by the indictment."

"But I protest my innocence," replied the prisoner